THE 4TH ART AND OLFACTION AWARDS ...

Were lent out in Berlin eleven days ago, for the first time - and I still owe you a report and many pictures, which I am pleased to receive.

In the past, I had already reported on the Art and Olfaction Awards as well as their background, and here - the announcement of the finalists at the Esxence , Berlin visit with Saskia Part 1 and Part 2 . The Art and Olfaction Awards could be described as a kind of indie-Oscar, which is not so bad when one considers that Saskia Wilson-Brown, her initiator, comes from the film industry. In fact, she has also inspired this background to bring this prize to life, as she told me once in the conversation. But first in order ...

Saskia Wilson-Brown is the founder of the Institute for Art and Olfaction , which is located in Los Angeles. In the first Berlin article above, you can read the most important facts about the institute - or, of course, visit the website directly , see here. As Saskia came up with the idea of founding
